Taski maiden was once employed but now just roams the area being her silly self	● People liked the change of background depending on the character chosen ● The background noise needs to stop overlapping so fix that ● When clicking on the characters, either make them brighter or pop out more that way they stand out ● Text or character should be larger to better utilize the space ● Change the cursor in some way, either after hitting the character back to regular or just change the shape of it in general

Emcee man! He appears once and never again but he's just a guy connected to cassette which gives him a voice. If you want to make a deal with him, he's a hard bargain.	● Changed font and size ● Fixed overlapping sound ● Kept the background the same ● Characters pop out more when you click on them ● Cursor is a different shape and turns into a waiting cursor
